

Word formation:

Going – gerund

The movie is boring

I love swimming

I am swimming

Yet

I like the rain yet I will not go out in it today - conjunction

I haven't taken my exam yet – adverb

Aforementioned – adjective / Meaning: said it before

Mrs Green was admitted with the aforementioned condition.

Accordingly – adverb / the expected way

“He was treated accordingly” - here I don't to say how he was treated

READING

1 Review elimination

2 Practice 4 questions

3 Analyse answers

What is the basic idea of multiple-choice questions?

Connecting the answer option to the text and also the QUESTION

QUESTION:	TEXT:
What does Alain like?	Alain likes fish
A Cheese
B Fish
C Bread

Why do we eliminate?

- Not given
- Opposite
- Partially true
- Doesn't answer the question

SIMPLE QUESTION

Question	Text
What do nurses like about cake? A. Sugar B. Colours C. The texture	It is well known that all nurses like cake and they like cake for the simple reason that cakes are confectionary: they include a lot of sugar.

Not given

Question	Text
What do nurses like about cake? A. Sugar B. Colours C. The texture	It is well known that all nurses like cake and they like cake for the simple reason that cakes are very colourful. It is well known that nurses do not like sugar, and they are not very impressed by the texture of cakes.

Opposite

Question	Text
What do all nurses like about cake? A. Sugar B. Colours C. The texture	It is well known that all nurses like cake for a lot of different reasons. Some because of the texture, some because of the colours but everyone likes sugar and so this is also true for nurses as well.

Partially true

Question	Text
What is that main point about cake in this passage? A. Cake is rich and tasty <small>Doesn't answer question</small> B. Cake is eaten when celebrating ✓ C. The texture ✗ <small>Not given</small>	Cake is something that you usually have when you see your friends for your birthday or for other religious festivals and it is common in many cultures to consume cake in times of celebration. It is appropriate for such occasions because cake is usually very rich and tasty. It is a luxurious food and hence we eat it in such moments.

TEXT: What is the main idea? A Dog B Cat C Fish	TEXT: Dog and also cat
--	--

RULE: it's possible that you can eliminate because it doesn't answer the question.

- Example:

The text stresses...

The main idea of the email..

The text highlights...

The text emphasises...

FOCUS on eliminating

