

WARM UP

Word formation game:

To mutter / mumble – talk in unclear

The muttering man walked home.

Bereavment – noun [feeling after a death]

Bereaved [adj.]

Grief - verb

Reveal – verb

Revealed / revealing – adj.

Revelation – to show / to uncover / expose / ‘a lightbulb moment’

‘USED TO’

1. Can you see the errors?
2. Diagram
3. Exercises in group

Can you see the errors?

1. <sup>Despite / In spite of</sup> In despite of getting used to the new TV show, it's still stressful ✓
2. <sup>Honestly,</sup> To be honestly, I used to collect cars when I was youngish ← <sup>approximately</sup>
3. It's hard remember but definite by the time I was 6. I was used to all the instability

DIAGRAM

Exercise

Use the box above to choose if the gap requires used to, get used to or be used to:

- When I was 16 I used to smoke I can't believe I was so unhealthy!
- After I arrived in the UK, it took a while ..... It's much better now - I have realised you can find quality if you look hard.
- John ..... nearby. Now I have to take a 2-hour bus ride to see him.
- It is cold here but ..... I ..... back home but with warm clothes you can manage!
- My new boss has completely new ways of working to my old boss. I have to admit I ..... still .....
- My parents sent me to boarding school when I was 12. I ... was ..... just ..... when they pulled me out because my dad had been offered a job abroad.
- I invited my friends to my house when I was 16. My mum cooked and they were amazed at how good it was. I .....
- Living in the UK is ok, I think. I ..... it was boring but then I discovered loads of amazing places to visit.
- Our company moved us into a new office and then moved us into another one 2 weeks later. It was a shame because ..... and I am sure it would have felt like home eventually.
- ..... a new country's customs and culture can be really hard.

