

Introducing Yourself – Focused Practice

Setting	UNKNOWN	KNOWN
Home	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Introduce yourself: Hi, my name is ____ and I am one of the ____ from your clinic. • Confirm name: May I confirm your name please? ...And how may I address you? • Thanks: Thank you for inviting me into your home • Context: I'm here today to + verb • How are you feeling at the moment? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use name: Hi ____ • Thanks: Thank you for inviting me into your home • Context: I'm here today to + verb • How are you feeling at the moment?
Hospital	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Introduce yourself: Hi, my name is ____ and I am one of the ____ at this hospital. • Confirm the name: May I confirm your name please? ...And how may I address you? • Context: I'm here today to + verb • How are you feeling at the moment? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Name Hi ____ • Context: I am aware that... • How are you feeling at the moment?
Clinic	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Introduce yourself: Hi, my name is ____ and I am one of the ____ from your clinic. • Confirm name: May I confirm your name please? ...And how may I address you? • Thanks: Thank you for coming in today • Context: I am aware that... • How are you feeling at the moment? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Use name: Hi ____ • Thanks: Thank you for coming in today • Context: I am aware that... • How are you feeling at the moment?

 = not essential but useful

Medicine - Look at the start to these roleplay cards.

How would you start the roleplay?

Setting: GP PRACTICE

Doctor: You're seeing a patient who has frequent migraine attacks with accompanying symptoms. S/he's concerned that this might indicate brain cancer and would like further investigation. Medication has ceased to be effective.

SETTING Suburban Clinic

DOCTOR Your patient suffers from otosclerosis and is due to have surgery on his/her middle ear. He/she is anxious about post-operative side-effects.

SETTING Suburban Clinic

DOCTOR Your 60-year-old patient recently presented with pain and tingling in the right-hand fingers and thumb. A nerve-conduction study has confirmed carpal tunnel syndrome. You're seeing the patient to discuss the test results.

Nurses - Look at the start to these roleplay cards.

How would you start the roleplay?

SETTING

Hospital Outpatient Clinic

NURSE

A patient is waiting in the preparation room for cataract surgery on his/her right eye. As s/he is quite nervous, the doctor's asked you to talk through any concerns that (s)he may have.

Setting: Home visit

PPP Nur Speaking 2

Nurse: You are visiting Clara, a 6-week old child, to perform preliminary health checks to assess the child's development. Their hearing, vision, height and weight are normal. Now you want to provide the child with its first vaccinations.

Setting: General Practice

PPP Nur Speaking 1

Nurse: You are a Practice Nurse and have been asked you to advise a patient who has had an abnormal blood test result.