

to + infinitive	gerund	object + to + infinitive	Preposition + gerund
intend prefer promise refuse want try wait wish offer need agree	advise prefer require risk deny try need consider delay	advise encourage require remind want tell need order	intend on admit to approve of plan on refrain from involve in think about
Last night, I was feeding my son but he refused to eat .	The thief denied stealing the bike.	The doctor advised Mr Smith to lose weight.	The thief admitted to stealing the bike.

Exercise 1

Correct the errors below:

Mr Smith promised being compliant with his hypertension regimen but I refused accepting his promise. Instead, I insisted on him use a Webster pack. Additionally, it is important that he refrains from drink alcohol while on his medication. If he requires to remind about this, just give the health centre a call and I will contact him. In our appointment last week he reported to try to be compliant but I'm not sure I believe him!

Mrs Johnson returned for a check up on 8th August. She admitted to not follow the diet advice from our last appointment. Unfortunately, her weight has increased and she said she was considering have gastric band surgery. She was advised to waiting and reminded that she has/had only tried change her diet once. I offered referring her to a nutritionist and she accepted.

Exercise 2

Sometimes we use more than two verbs/actions. Can you write sentences for the below prompts?

confirm wife's care help need
agree mobilise mum help
encourage diet try follow
remind forget blood sugar level check not
report frequently go want toilet

---

Answers

Exercise 1

Mrs Johnson returned for a check up on 8th August. She admitted to not following the diet advice from our last appointment. Unfortunately, her weight has increased and she said she was considering having gastric band surgery. She was advised to waiting and reminded that she has/had only tried to change her diet once. I offered to refer her to a nutritionist and she accepted.

Mr Smith promised to be compliant with his hypertension regimen but I refused to accept his promise. Instead, I insisted on him using a Webster pack. Additionally, it is important that he refrains from drinking alcohol while on his medication. If he requires reminding about this, just give the health centre a call and I will contact him. In our appointment last week he reported trying to be compliant but I'm not sure I believe him!

Exercise 2

confirm wife's care help need	Mr Smith confirmed that he needed to help with his wife's care.
agree mobilise mum help	Mr Smith agreed to help his mum to mobilise.
encourage diet try follow	Mr Smith was encouraged to try following his diet.
remind forget blood sugar level check not	Mr Smith was reminded to not forget to check his blood sugar level.
report frequently go want toilet	Mr Smith reported wanting to go to the toilet frequently. - he has spoken to the GP  Mr Smith wanted to report going to the toilet frequently. - he was sitting in the waiting room