

Starter:

Read the questions below and consider your answer.

You may be asked to answer verbally:

- 1. What factors can influence the uptake of nutrients by the body?
- 2. What precautions should be taken to protect vulnerable patients in healthcare settings?
- 3. What are common symptoms experienced at the peak of a migraine?

Spelling Test:

- 1. pant
- 2. resilient
- 3. spot
- 4. lurk
- 5. re-run
- 6. was dead set against
- 7. pilot
- 8. scope
- 9. dull
- 10. puff
- 11. took a knock
- 12. gauge
- 13. postponed
- 14. knocked me for six
- 15. outreach

Vocabulary Gap Fill:

- 1. The patient complained of a dull ache in their lower back.
- 2. She experienced shortness of breath and began to pant/puff heavily.
- 3. The doctor instructed the patient to puff into the spirometer to measure their lung capacity.
- 4. Despite the injury, the athlete's resilient nature allowed them to continue performing at a high level.
- 5. After the car accident, the patient's confidence took a knock when they experienced setbacks in their rehabilitation.
- 6. During the physical examination, the doctor was able to spot a rash on the patient's arm.
- 7. The unexpected diagnosis of cancer knocked me for six, leaving me stunned and overwhelmed.
- 8. A sense of unease seemed to lurk within the patient's mind as they awaited the test results.
- 9. The laboratory technician had to undertake a re-run of the experiment to ensure accurate results.
- 10. The doctor used a thermometer to gauge the patient's body temperature.
- 11. The patient's family was dead set against the proposed treatment plan, citing concerns about its potential side effects.
- 12. Due to unforeseen circumstances, the surgery had to be postponed until a later date.
- 13. The hospital implemented a pilot programme to test the efficiency of a new electronic health record system.
- 14. The medical centre organized an outreach team to provide free health screenings to the underprivileged community.
- 15. The scope of the research study was expanded to include a larger sample size for more accurate findings.