

Your new class timetable

We're changing the SET English timetable to offer morning and evening classes and provide more structured support for Reading.

The changes take effect from 5 October, instead of the previously announced date of 29 September.

Live classes: Tuesday to Thursday

Choose ONE track: morning OR evening. These are separate groups covering the same content. You do not need to attend both. Each track provides two hours a day, Tuesday to Thursday (six hours a week). All times are UK time.

Repeating cycle	Subject	Morning track	Evening track
Week 1	Listening	10:00	20:30
	Writing	11:00	21:30
Week 2	Reading	10:00	20:30
	Speaking	11:00	21:30

The timetable applies each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. After Week 2, the cycle repeats. There are no scheduled group classes on Mondays or Fridays.

What else is changing?

Daily Reading assignments: An OET Reading assignment every Monday to Friday to build your skills outside class.

Writing classes: OET writing principles and tasks relevant to all professions.

More flexible 1-to-1 availability: Monday to Friday at different times of day.

What stays the same?

Your existing training period remains valid. All writing assessments, speaking mock tests and 1-to-1 sessions included in your purchased programme remain available.

Continue to access live classes through the SET study portal. Booking and attending individual sessions, and submitting writing assessments, work as before.

All live classes will be recorded and available to catch up on the same day.

Preparing for the change

We'll send email reminders and display notices on the study portal before 5 October. We'll also update a few portal pages, with guidance videos to help you find what you need.

Questions? Ask in class or email Alain or Paul.

The SET English Team